Mount St. Mary's College, Doheny Campus

Volume 39, Issue 1

August 24, 2009

Welcome to Fall 2009

WELCOMING MESSAGES:

Welcome from the Dean

As Dean of the Associate Degree Programs, I want to welcome all new and returning students to the Doheny campus. The beginning of an academic year is exciting whether you are new to college or starting your second year. Mount St. Mary's College is a small school, so I encourage you to begin today to take full advantage of the opportunities that it has to offer.

The beginning is a great time to make friends. Start a conversation with a classmate you don't know or have lunch with a new group. If you have a work study grant, apply today for some on-campus jobs. Attend the Student Involvement Fair on Thursday and join a club. Go to all of your classes everyday and go to them prepared, having completed the reading and any homework. Visit your professor during office hours. Do all that you can to get involved with the campus, and college will be an even more rewarding experience for you.

I will look forward to seeing you on campus, and stop by to meet me when you have a chance. Please know that the faculty and staff are here to help to make your college life a success.

Have a great academic year,

Dr. Patricia Disterhoft

A Message from the Assistant Dean

Welcome to all new and returning students.

I hope your summer was wonderful and relaxing. As Assistant Dean, I look forward to interacting with you this year. I invite you to seek me out and get to know me. My office is located in Building 10, 2nd floor, Office 20.

You may be wondering what the function of the Assistant Academic Dean is. I monitor your academic progress, assist with academic advising, administer policy, consult with faculty and meet with students individually on various issues.

Again, feel free to contact me at any time. I am here to assist you in succeeding at Mount St. Mary's College.

Good luck and have a great academic year!

Jeanette Stone

Greetings new and returning MSMC students! I hope you all had a wonderful summer! Starting college can be stressful and it is a time of many changes. You're leaving behind your school, friends, home, and entering an entirely new environment. Making new friends and having new responsibilities can be a challenge. Here are some helpful hints on ways to handle some of the changes:

- Give yourself an opportunity to slowly adjust to your new academic load and college life. Be patient with yourself and others.
- Manage your time.
- Set specific and reachable goals for yourself.
- Know that CPS (Counseling and Psychological Services) is available if you need someone to talk to! Our services are free and confidential!
- Meet new friends and have fun.

Emergency Notification Announcement

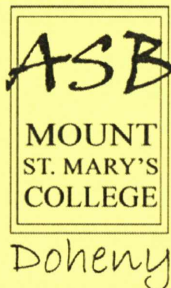

The mass notification system is in place to inform the college community of any campus emergency or disaster which could impact college business. This notification system is a voluntary program which will allow those that sign up for the service to be notified of emergencies via email and/or text message to your personal cell phone and college email address. There is no cost to sign up for the service and normal text messaging rates will be applied if and when the notification system is activated. You can sign up for the e-alert program by visiting the Campus Security webpage and selecting Emergency Notification.

Once you have created your account, you will be redirected to another page where you can add your college issued email address. We strongly advise you to add both your cell phone number and email to your personal notification account to ensure timely notification of problems on or off campus.

If you ever receive a message on your cell phone or email from this system, please follow the instructions carefully. Periodically during a crisis, updates will be sent out to keep you fully informed. Once the event or crisis has concluded, an all clear message will be sent letting you know that it is now safe to resume normal operations. We encourage all current students, faculty and staff to participate.

Great news for those who need textbooks!

Recently, the Obama administration launched economic stimulus package includes a new Textbook Tax Credit for which many MSMC students are eligible. This new government program will now reimburse students for up to 100% of the cost of required textbooks and other course materials. For example, if your student has out-of-pocket course material expenses or tuition and fees during 2009 or 2010 and no other financial grant aid covers those expenses, they would be able to claim the expenses as a credit. For each student the credit is limited to $2,500.

This stimulus bill creates the American Opportunity Tax Credit, which will credit 100% of a student's first $2000 in tuition, fees, and course materials, and 25% of the next $2000. The credit is also 40% refundable, so even if a student doesn't owe taxes, he or she can effectively get a 40% rebate from the federal government for all tuition, fees and course materials.

At the bookstore, we are very excited about this new government program and want to ensure that our students are aware of this new opportunity.

I have attached a flyer with the main points about the credit. For more information, you can check out www.textbookaid.org

Best wishes for the new semester,

LaToya Reinhold, R.N., M.S.N.

LaToya Reinhold has been at the Doheny Campus for a year. She works at the Chalon Campus Mondays through Thursdays and at the Doheny Campus on Fridays.

LaToya grew up in St. Louis and did her undergraduate work at St. Louis University, a Catholic university with Jesuit priests. Wanting to obtain a Masters degree in nursing, she moved west and got that degree at UCLA. She then met and married her husband and now lives in the Westchester area of Los Angeles.

She loves doing health education, helping students learn more about taking care of themselves. She loves eating, walking, and singing both in the shower and at church. Her future plans are some day to return to school and get a Doctorate in nursing.

Meet the Nurses

Patti Graham, R.N. has over 20 years of experience as a Registered Nurse with an emphasis on occupational health and urgent care nursing. She has worked with a wide variety of people in both medical and corporate settings and is excited to be at Mt. St. Mary's College. Patti is looking forward to getting to know the students, faculty and staff at MSMC and invites you to stop by Student Health Services to meet her.

Toni Wexler, R.N.

I was exclusively at the American Jewish University last year as their Student Health Coordinator. My nursing background is wide ranging – I have held staff and charge positions at major teaching hospitals in Boston, Buffalo NY (my hometown) and Los Angeles. I have also had experience in in-patient psychiatry & substance abuse, dermatology and home health nursing. I find that this variety is really useful in addressing the many and varied concerns of the student population.

My husband and I have lived in Los Angeles for many years—we're almost natives by many standards! We have two children— my son Jake is a recent college graduate, and my daughter Sara is a high school senior.

I love being a part of the Mount community and have felt at home here from day one! The Mount is reminiscent of my own nursing school environment—a Catholic nursing school with Sisters of Charity.

Are you Feeling Homesick??

Feeling homesick is a natural feeling. Adjusting to a new campus, roommate, expectations, courses, and routine takes a fair amount of time and patience. By nature, we tend to resist change and struggle to hold on to familiar surroundings like the comforts of home, family, and friends. If you're struggling to beat the blues, here are eleven homesickness helpers to pick you up.

1. Admit that you have it. Much of what you know and can rely on is back home. Homesickness is a natural response to this sense of loss.
2. Talk about it with an older sibling or friend who has gone away from home. It takes strength to accept the fact that something is bothering you and to confront it.
3. Bring familiar items from home to your new location. Photos, plants, even stuffed animals help to give one a sense of continuity and ease the shock of a new environment.
4. Familiarize yourself with your new surroundings. Walk around. You will feel more in control if you know where buildings, classes, and services are.
5. Invite people along to explore. Making friends is a big step to alleviating homesickness.
6. Keep in touch with the people back home, but put a limit on telephoning. Write them reports of your activities and new experiences. Let them know you'd like to hear from them, too.
7. Plan a date to go home and make arrangements. This often helps curtail impulsive returns and keeps you focused on your goals in staying.
8. Examine your expectations. We'd all like to be popular, well-dressed, well-organized, well-adjusted. Well, we're not. Setting a goal of perfection is the most predictable way of creating trouble for yourself. Laugh at your mistakes. You're learning!!
9. Seek new opportunities. As scary as it is to see all those people, all those classes, all those buildings, all those choices, they will provide opportunities to meet people who like what you like. Take classes that you're interested in and get involved in your favorite activity, or try new ones.
10. Do something. Don't wait for it to go away by itself. Buried problems often emerge later disguised as headaches, fatigue, illness, or lack of motivation.
11. Talk to a counselor. Speaking to someone is sometimes helpful and can be a great place to vent and problem solve. CPS's service is free and confidential.

Who are the Sisters of St. Joseph?

In 1925 the Sisters of St. Joseph founded Mount St. Mary's College. The Sisters of St. Joseph are still around today. Would you like to meet them? Everyone likes coupons and these coupons are a unique and creative way to meet the Sisters of St. Joseph. "Cash them in" for an opportunity to have dinner with the sisters or have them pray for a special intention, or attend Sunday Mass with them, and much more. If you didn't get a coupon book, come to the Front Desk of Bldg 10 and pick one up.

Campus Security

Campus Security is here to help and protect you.

They are here 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. They screen vehicles onto campus making sure they have a valid reason for being on campus and do foot and vehicle patrols inspecting for security and safety. If needed, you can ask for a Security Escort by dialing x2502 from any on-campus phone. One of the Campus Security Officers will meet you and escort you anywhere on campus or to your car. They provide this service so you don't have to worry about safety.

In emergency, they can help you if you lock your keys in the car or need a jumpstart.

Each campus has "blue light" emergency call boxes for your safety. By pressing the emergency button, you will be directly connected to Campus Security. State your location and the emergency, and a Campus Security Officer will respond to your location.

Please DON'T FEED THE SQUIRRELS

The squirrels are cute and appear to be hungry and begging for food. But the BEST thing you can do is NOT feed the squirrels. There are plenty of nuts on campus that are good for the squirrels. When you start to feed them, they don't learn to forage for their own food. They become dependent on humans for food and even become quite bold in our dining area.

Constitution Day!!

Fascinating Facts about the U.S. Constitution

- The U.S. Constitution has 4,400 words. It is the oldest and shortest written Constitution of any major government in the world.
- The Constitution was "penned" by Jacob Shallus, A Pennsylvania General Assembly clerk, for $30 ($661 today).
- Constitution Day is celebrated on September 17, the anniversary of the day the framers signed the document.

James Madison, "the father of the Constitution," was the first to arrive in Philadelphia for the Constitutional Convention. He arrived in February, three months before the convention began, bearing the blueprint for the new Constitution.

Because of his poor health, Benjamin Franklin needed help to sign the Constitution. As he did so, tears streamed down his face

- The oldest person to sign the Constitution was Benjamin Franklin (81). The youngest was Jonathan Dayton of New Jersey (26).
- The first time the formal term "The United States of America" was used was in the Declaration of Independence.
- George Washington and James Madison were the only presidents who signed the Constitution.
- The word "democracy" does not appear once in the Constitution.
- As evidence of its continued flexibility, the Constitution has only been changed seventeen times since 1791!

Midterms are over- Whew! Now it might feel like the calm before the storm of finals. Taking time to relax is important, but be careful of falling into the pattern of procrastination. Procrastination is a fairly common behavior for college students but, if left unchecked, can lead to increased stress. Here are some tips to help you stay on top of procrastination:

- Stay current with homework and readings. If you are behind when finals hit then your stress will be greater.
- Use your calendar to keep track of assignments.
- Prioritize your tasks.
- Work on the harder tasks first so you can get them out of the way.
- Make sure you schedule time to relax and socialize.

Tips to keep yourself safe

It is darker, earlier now after the time change.

How do you keep yourself safe when walking to your car or exercising in the dark?

- ◊ Use high pedestrian traffic areas – Bad guys don't want witnesses. Walk in view or on paths where there are other people walking
- ◊ Attitude - When walking to your car, walk with purpose. Have an attitude as if "no one is going to spoil my day today." Keep your head up. Avoid use of headphones or ipods as this can make you look as if you are less alert
- ◊ Companions – Walk with a friend! This significantly reduces your chance of being harassed by a stranger looking to make trouble
- ◊ If you think you are being followed – Make a sudden turn, cross the street, or go into a nearby business. If you think you are being followed by a car, turn all the way around. It takes a long time for a car to make a U-turn, and can give you more time to find someone to provide you help and safety

If you would like to speak more about tips regarding personal safety, or have anything else you would like to speak about, contact a counselor at CPS. Remember, our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL

Looking for a Community Organizer

Get on the Bus needs young people who will tell the GOTB story to as many people as possible. Get on the Bus is a project started by the Sisters of St. Joseph to help children go to see their mothers who are incarcerated in the women's prisons in California.

<http://www.getonthebus.us/>

We need Community Organizers who will invite others into mission. They will be speaking on behalf of the children who need to get on the bus in your area. Actually, the local bus this year is sponsored by the St. Johns Episcopal church across from St. Vincent's.

There will be an orientation to find out what is needed. The orientation will be on Sunday, Jan 31, and we will learn from one another. The contract commitment is 2,4,6,8 hours per week, whatever you can spare. Maybe two or three students could do it together and split 8 hours. You could get a team together too...folks who are not paid.....but who are doing a service project.

If interested, see Sr. Carol at the front desk of bldg 10 or at cbrong@msmc.la.edu

Do you think you can fill these shoes?

We're looking for leaders just like you!

Healthy Eating Tips for the Busy College Student

The average college student is often pressed for time, under a lot of stress and eating on the go. You may find it difficult to avoid bad habits like skipping meals or frequenting fast food restaurants. But eating a healthy diet can help you feel better, cope with stress and perform better in the class-room and on the athletic field. It really isn't that hard to get started.

Keep healthful snacks on hand so if hunger strikes during a late night study session, you won't be tempted by vending machine candy, chips, or ice cream. Possibilities include fresh or dried fruit, pretzels, unbuttered popcorn, rice cakes or whole wheat crackers. If you have a refrigerator, consider raw vegetables with low-fat yogurt or cottage cheese dip.

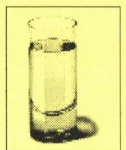

Eat plenty of foods that are rich in calcium. People in their early twenties need to build up stores of calcium in their bodies to prevent osteoporosis in later life. If you don't like milk, try to include ample amounts of low-fat yogurt, low-fat cheese, and green leafy vegetables in your diet.

If you need to lose weight, do it sensibly. Starvation and/or diets that offer a quick fix usually backfire and are harmful. There is no truth to the theories that suggest eating foods in any particular combination will promote weight loss. The only safe way to lose weight, feel good while doing it, and keep it off is to eat a balanced diet.

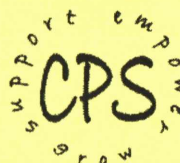

Sugar provides calories in your diet but few other nutrients, and it contributes significantly to tooth decay. Use it sparingly and consider sweetening coffee, tea, cereal and fruit with diet sweeteners instead.

Drink lots of water. Your body needs at least eight glasses a day, and if you exercise vigorously, you may need more. To remind yourself, carry a water bottle along to class and keep it handy during late night study sessions.

Remember, food is a lot more than nourishment for our bodies. Enjoy and savor it.

Happy New Year!!

A New Year! A New Semester! A New You! The New Year is a time to look back and also to look ahead. Take some time to evaluate how things went last semester. What went well? What would you like to change? Then think about how you can make those changes happen. Set some specific goals for your academic, social, and personal life. Here are some suggestions to help you have a successful Spring semester.

- ❖ Write down reasons both external and internal motivators that keep you in college. Increase your motivators, and write them on post-its as a reminder to yourself.
- ❖ Find ways to relate what you learn in class to your current life or future career. You will better appreciate the meaning and/or usefulness of your coursework.
- ❖ Reach out to professors, mentors, friends or family members. They can help you stay on track and provide guidance and motivation.
- ❖ Prioritize. Among assignments that must be done first, pick the one that motivates you the most. Once you get going, working on other assignments is often easier.
- ❖ Pick personal peak times for you to study. Everyone has predictable times that they are more alert, energetic, and motivated. Schedule study time during these hours, so you spend less time fighting low motivation.
- ❖ Reward yourself when you finish an assignment/task. Stop and acknowledge what you have accomplished before focusing on what else you have to do. Your schoolwork will become linked with feeling good about yourself.
- ❖ If you find yourself procrastinating, consult with a counselor. You hold the key to maintaining your motivation. Fuel it!

- An Inconvenient Truth offers a passionate and inspirational look at one man's fervent crusade to halt global warming's
- deadly progress in its tracks by exposing the myths and mis-
- conceptions that surround it. That man is
- former Vice President Al Gore, who, in the
- wake of defeat in the 2000 election, re-set
- the course of his life to focus on a last-ditch,
- all-out effort to help save the planet from
- irrevocable change. In this eye-opening and
- poignant portrait of Gore and his "traveling
- global warming show," Gore also proves
- himself to be one of the most misunderstood
- characters in modern American public life.
- Here he is seen as never before in the media -
- funny, engaging, open and downright on fire about getting the
- surprisingly stirring truth about what he calls our "planetary
- emergency" out to ordinary citizens before it's too late. (96

YOU are invited to join the Sisters of St. Joseph in a 27 block march against Human Trafficking; the idea of the 27 blocks is for the 27 million human beings in slavery in the world.

They will meet in front of St. Basil's Church at 3611 Wilshire Blvd, Los Angeles, with parking in the church lot. They will leave St. Basil's for a 27 block walk. Please bring an umbrella as a tool to advertise Human Trafficking. Then you can either attach signs to your umbrella or write directly on a cheap one! Here are some suggestions for your sign:

"THE BIG PICTURE:
Documentary Series for Faith and Culture"

Tuesday, Feb. 2

at 7:30pm in the Rose Hills Auditorium
Cosponsored by Campus Ministry, Religious Studies and LMU's Center for Religion and Spirituality

This film examines the good work and enduring legacy of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Carondelet, a community of Catholic nuns who run an operation comparable to a "Fortune 500" nonprofit company. Their work is a vital part of communities throughout the United States, Canada, Chile, Japan and Peru. For four years, the filmmakers followed the lives and changing missions of sisters in leadership roles in the St. Louis province. This story examines how the sisters manage their operations and investments always true to their charism of serving "the dear neighbor." The evening will conclude with remarks by local scholars, including Sr. Darlene Kawalok, and a public forum with producer, director and writer Karen Kearns.

INTRODUCING

Alissa Pineda, Resident Campus Minister

Visit her at McIntyre Hall Rm 314 on Tuesdays and Wednesdays 8pm to 10pm

Alissa wants to meet you and know how she can get to know you better and help you in many ways. She says her job is to be a spiritual counselor, friend, and staff member.

As a child, Alissa grew up and was raised knowing she was Catholic but her family didn't practice the religion, didn't go to church on Sundays, and so she didn't know much about her faith. In high school, she wanted to be more involved in her religion, so she deliberately chose Mount St. Mary's College so that she'd have the opportunities to become more active in her faith.

The best advice she'd give to a young adult is to listen to her own heart, to let herself be guided, to have an open mind. Alissa has studied about many religions and feels comfortable talking to others about how they see, experience, and worship God.

Welcome, Alissa!

AWARENESS WALK for Human Trafficking

Saturday, Feb. 6, at 10:00am

YOU are invited to join the Sisters of St. Joseph in a 27 block march against Human Trafficking; the idea of the 27 blocks is for the 27 million human beings in slavery in the world.

They will meet in front of St. Basil's Church at 3611 Wilshire Blvd, Los Angeles, with parking in the church lot. They will leave St. Basil's for a 27 block walk. Please bring an umbrella as a tool to advertise Human Trafficking. Then you can either attach signs to your umbrella or write directly on a cheap one! Here are some suggestions for your sign:

"Stop Human Trafficking!" or
"Human Beings Not for Sale" or "Slavery Still Exists."

For more information contact Kathleen Bryant, RSC, at 310-838-0654.

The Doheny Campus library wants to thank all who took the library survey last semester. We read all your comments and are implementing some suggestions immediately even as we continue to work with the administration to make the library even more responsive to your needs and wants.

We have increased hours! For the traditional semester period, we now open at 7:30 a.m., Monday through Friday, instead of 8 a.m. We are fully staffed during this earlier time, including having a librarian on duty. This is a trial to see if the demand warrants this earlier opening for next year, too. So, please come in. Vote with your presence.

You'll find a student employee asking to see your Mount I.D. as you enter the library. Again, we are responding to the survey to assure you that computers, space and staff's time are not being used by trespassers, but are available to you. Also this effort increases your safety. If you are not carrying your I.D., you may check in at the circulation desk where we will verify your library privileges. Please, do not enter the library with no I.D. or no record of signing up for library privileges (receiving a library barcode). If you have not asked for library privileges, now is a good time to do so—just stop by the circulation desk with your Mount I.D.

The survey also indicated that patrons are bothered by food smells and leftovers. We have asked with our signage not to eat in the library. Now, we are going to enforce the ban with greater diligence. We are not going to ask you to spit out gum, a piece of candy or a cookie, but we are going to ask you to leave the library if you have a meal, instead of a book, spread in front of you. Warm foods create odors; all food garbage attracts insects and worse! Aid us in keeping a healthy, clean environment. Use our computers for reference purposes only. If you have material to print out from Angel, a paper to write in Word, or e-mail to read, please go to the computer lab. The library has only eight patron computers hooked up to printers. These need to be available for patrons searching academic databases and electronic informational resources.

Our study rooms are for group study! If you are alone, use an empty room, but please give way when a group wants it. Also, these rooms are available on a "first group that comes, gets!" No student can reserve a room. We are trying to accommodate as many patrons as physically possible, but our spatial resources have limits. The survey pointed out that many patrons are bothered by cell phones ringing and phone conversations taking place while they are quietly studying. Please, be considerate of others—cease cell phone use while in the library.

The library staff wants to be helpful, not confrontational. Help us have a cordial atmosphere by using common sense and courteousness.

Thanks again to all those patrons who filled out the survey and expressed their wishes and concerns.

Spring Semester Stress Buster

Spring semester can be a time of transition and stress with adjustment to new classes, new work and school schedules to coordinate, and new teachers. Here are some tips to keep your stress down during this time of transition.

Start Organizing early — Buy a planner and write down important dates, tests, and deadlines.

Remember to breathe — When facing a hurdle, give yourself a minute and take a deep breath, which will help you more effectively problem solve.

Schedule down time — Taking care of yourself and allowing for some down time will help keep stress levels down and allow you to better focus on school and work.

Be open to asking for help — If you are feeling overwhelmed, remember that there are resources available on campus to help you, including CPS. It shows a great deal of strength when you are able to ask for help.

If you would like to speak more about tips regarding stress management during transitions, or have anything else you would like to speak about, contact a counselor at CPS. Remember, our services are FREE and CONFIDENTIAL.

"THE BIG PICTURE:

Documentary Series for Faith and Culture"

Tuesday, Feb. 2

at 7:30pm in the Rose Hills Auditorium
Cosponsored by Campus Ministry, Religious Studies and LMU's Center for Religion and Spirituality

This film examines the good work and enduring legacy of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Carondelet, a community of Catholic nuns who run an operation comparable to a "Fortune 500" nonprofit company. Their work is a vital part of communities throughout the United States, Canada, Chile, Japan and Peru. For four years, the filmmakers followed the lives and changing missions of sisters in leadership roles in the St. Louis province. This story examines how the sisters manage their operations and investments always true to their charism of serving "the dear neighbor." The evening will conclude with remarks by local scholars, including Sr. Darlene Kawalok, and a public forum with producer, director and writer Karen Kearns.

Tips to Building Healthy Relationships

Developed by CPS, Mount St. Mary's College from University of Texas at Dallas

Be Yourself

*Be real from the start. This gives each person a chance to see if they can be comfortable with each other's beliefs, interests, looks, and lifestyle

Communicate Better

- *Use "I feel" statements
- *Ask for what you need or want, but have realistic expectations
- *Give each other permission to peacefully refuse each other's requests at times

Resolve Conflicts

*Take the relationship from my way/your way to our way using negotiation and compromise. Start the problem solving by listening to and respecting each other's point of view

Reciprocate

*Give equal importance to the feelings, interests, and needs of each person in the relationship. Develop the skill of both giving and receiving emotional support

Enjoy each other!

*Let good humor and fun together be a part of your regular schedule

Questions? Contact Linda Contreras at lindcont19@mymsmc.la.edu

Are you communicating effectively?

It might seem counter intuitive to think that in order to be a good communicator you need to be a good listener but what do you think would happen if you didn't listen or understand what the other person was saying? The real core of communication is understanding where the other person is coming from. Here are some tips to help improve your communication skills with others:

- ☞ Be aware of your own biases.
- ☞ Active Listening: Give your attention, body language, stay tuned in, make eye contact, and don't plan your response while someone is talking- you might miss something important. Repeat back what you think you heard the person say.
- ☞ Ask Questions: Maybe you missed a detail or not quite understand the other person's point of view. It is important that you have a clear understanding of what is going on. Be aware of your tone when asking questions.
- ☞ Learning to listen during conversations and being aware of the cues (verbal and non-verbal) will help you be a better communicator.

If you are still having a difficult time communicating with others or have anything else you would like to speak about, contact a counselor at CPS. Remember, our services are always FREE and CONFIDENTIAL.

How Much Do You Know About Sleep?

Do you get enough sleep each evening? Below is some interesting information regarding sleep.

-Most people do not know when they're sleepy and why. This can be problematic because if you are sleepy enough, you can fall asleep anywhere.

- Many people think raising the volume of your radio will help you stay awake while driving. This is false. If you are having trouble keeping awake but must resume driving, change drivers. Pull over at a safe place, take a short nap or have a caffeinated drink.

-Did you know the human body never adjusts to working at night? Individuals who work at night are still most likely to be sleepy between midnight and six a.m.. Regardless of how long one works at night, staying awake late into the evening and sleeping during the day can remain a challenge to your body.

- To find out how much sleep you need to feel rested and function normally, sleep until you wake up on your own. Most adults need 7 to 8 hours of sleep to function at their best. You cannot learn to function well on 2 fewer hours of sleep per night than you need.

Kavi

Rose Hills Auditorium –Doheny Campus

6:00 p.m.

There are more than 27 million people enslaved around the world today. This means that there are more people enslaved now than during the entire 400 years of the transatlantic slave trade. In order to shed some more light on Modern Day Slavery, the Psychology Club and the Los Angeles Network to Eradicate Slavery (LANES) will be hosting a screening of the Academy Award Winning Documentary Kavi.

The 2010 short film, Kavi, is about a boy in India who wants to play cricket and go to school, but instead he is forced to work in a brick kiln as a modern-day slave. Unsatisfied with his fate, Kavi must choose to either accept what he's always been told, or fight for a different life even if he's unsure of the ultimate outcome.

In addition, there will be a Human Trafficking 101 presentation.

Crunch Time!!!

End of the college year can be stressful with so many responsibilities. Finals are just around the corner and may be starting to take a toll on your energy. What can you do? The next time you notice feeling tired and drained, try some of the following ways to relax and re-group.

Do something you love. Taking on an activity you enjoy such as painting, going to the beach or walking at a park can help you relax both emotionally and physically.

Listen to music. Listening to relaxing music can help soothe you when you feel stressed and tense.

Take a hot shower. Give yourself half an hour in a day to take a long hot shower and unwind.

Find thirty minutes of 'alone time' in a day. Meditate, write in a journal or do yoga.

Most importantly, communicate. Talk to people you trust like a friend, roommate or a family member about thoughts and feelings that may be weighing you down.

Although these ideas won't reduce your workload, they will still give you a chance to de-stress and re-energize.

To find out more information on relaxation contact CP5- Counseling & Psychological Services (213) 477-2668. Counseling is FREE and Confidential.

Midterms are over. But finals are just around the corner. Taking time to relax is important, but be careful of falling into the pattern of procrastination. Procrastination is a fairly common behavior for college students.
 Interestingly, procrastination is only remotely related to time management, (procrastinators often know exactly what they should be doing, even if they cannot do it), which is why very detailed schedules usually are no help. Here are some tips to help you avoid falling prey to procrastination:

- ☞ Stay current with homework and readings. If you are too far behind when finals hit then your stress will be greater.
- ☞ Use your calendar to keep track of assignments.
- ☞ Make tasks look small and easy. ("I've done lots of papers before, this is just one more)
- ☞ Try the five-minute plan: Work on something for just five minutes. At the end of five minutes, switch to something else if you want. Chances are, you'll get involved enough to keep going
- ☞ Use your friends. Find the friends who are consistent studiers and make them role models. Advertise your plans to study so your friends can provide peer pressure to encourage you to finish your work. And finally, schedule time to relax and socialize after you have completed some of your task

What will you do for National Volunteer Week?

We don't have to start big when considering how, when, and where to volunteer. There is always an opportunity to share whatever we have with the less fortunate.

Volunteering to help a friend; a family member; giving our time to school activities; and even simply helping someone at random are already good acts of volunteering.

Dear Mount Community,

In an effort to share practical skills knowledge of the world with our students we have enlisted the aid of a super shopper, Sonji LeBlanc, who will be demonstrating how the use of coupons can help save thousands of dollars per year. We believe this information should be available to all of us during these challenging financial times, and invite you to join us. Please look for our flyer with more detailed information arriving after 5 p.m. this evening.

The workshop will be held at the Chalon Campus in Humanities 201 on Tuesday, April 20th between 5 and 6 p.m.

If you have any questions, please contact us. We look forward to seeing you! All are Welcome!

Thanks,
Marlene
